

Offering Spotlight: Local Church Budget

It is through your tithes and offerings that the Seventh-day Adventist Church gathers the resources needed to spread the gospel of God's love throughout the world. Tithes returned back to God through the Bremerton church go to the Washington Conference, with smaller portions of support continuing up the chain until they reach the General Conference. Your offerings designated for local church budget stay local, helping support our ministries such as KACS, community service, small groups and all the overhead expenses that keep our doors open.

While our local church budget is still in the red, we are thankful for every dollar you give. Each is a sacrifice given from a submissive heart. With the leading of the Spirit, our gifts combine to accomplish a greater work than any one of us could do alone. Thank you for being part of the body, sharing your financial resources, your time and your talents.
