

Offering Spotlight: Washington Youth— Education

With countless educational choices available today, Adventist education continues to shine by nurturing the whole child—mind, body, and spirit. Through this Christ-centered approach, students are empowered to:

- Build a personal relationship with Jesus Christ
- Engage with life's big questions through thoughtful, faith-based reasoning
- Establish a strong biblical foundation that guides them now and into eternity

Today's general offering supports the mission of Adventist education across the Washington Conference, helping shape hearts and minds for a life of purpose and faith.

Our children's offering, collected in the straw hats, supports Adventist education locally by providing scholarships to students at KACS.
