BIRTHDAYS

WORD OF THE WEEK: GRIEF

Grief is a deep, personal response to loss, most commonly a loved one's death, encompassing emotional, physical, and cognitive symptoms like sadness, numbness, fatigue, and confusion. It is not a linear process, often involving stages of denial, anger, bargaining, depression, and acceptance, which can take months or years (Google AI)

"God's love for you has not grown cold because your heart is broken. Rather, because your heart is crushed, His compassion and tenderness is all the more directed toward you. Your great need can assure you of His even greater, more abundant supply. You may not always feel His unconditional love for you, but you can rest in the knowledge of His love. God's unconditional love for you is found throughout His word and in the living witness of His Son, Jesus. Nothing can separate you from His Love. Cling to the knowledge of God's love, regardless of how you feel. Your emotions cannot be trusted during grief, but you can trust God's word in the Bible when He says that nothing can separate you from His love. Allow this assurance of God's limitless love to hold you as you face the painful days ahead." (Steve & Karen Nicola, Certified grief coaches, professional grief educators & founders of comforthortheeday.com. Adapted from "Comfort for the Day," pg. 13)
