"Many expected to hear from Lazarus a wonderful account of scenes witnessed after death. They were surprised that he told them nothing. He had nothing of this kind to tell. Inspiration declares, 'The dead know not anything...Their love, and their hatred, and their envy, is now perished.' Eccl.9:5, 6. But Lazarus did have a wonderful testimony to bear in regard to the work of Christ. He had been raised from the dead for this purpose. With assurance and power he declared that Jesus was the Son of God."

The Desire of Ages, p. 557, 558

"Every saint has a past, every sinner has a future."
