Health Nugget: To be “abstemious” is to be moderate or sparing in the use of certain things, including an excess of even good food. Temperance has a similar meaning: It means to have moderation or self-restraint. Temperance can also mean to totally avoid certain substances or activities, and so does abstinence...In order to succeed physically, mentally, and morally in life, we must have temperance in regard to things good and abstinence in regard to things harmful. From The Natural Remedies Encyclopedia, 7th edition, pg. 55. “True temperance teaches us to abstain entirely from that which is injurious, and to use judiciously only healthful and nutritious articles of food.”-Health Reformer, April 1, 1877.
