The meetings will be Monday through Friday here at the church, from 7-8 each evening. Look for a bulletin insert next week with more information.

Oct. 17th Lesson 2 "The Source of Life and Love"

Health Nugget: Researchers followed more than 111,000 nurses and health professionals for over 30 years. People who consistently did the widest range of activities had a 19% lower risk of death from any cause than those who did the fewest. Walking showed the strongest link of any single activity. People who walked the most had a 17% lower risk of death than those who walked the least. If walking is already your favorite, keep it and add something new. An easy way to mix it up is pairing aerobic activity like walking or cycling with strength training. The American Heart Association reports that resistance training, alone or combined with aerobic training, improves risk factors for cardiovascular disease whether or not a person already has it. It also builds or maintains muscle mass and strength. Yet fewer than one in three U.S. adults report strength training the recommended two days a week. A separate study followed more than 47,000 U.S. adults with type 2 diabetes. The lowest death rates showed up in people who got the recommended weekly amount of aerobic activity and also did muscle-strengthening activity at least once a week. Please Note: The sanctuary is a special place set aside for worship, prayer and quiet reflection. Many people come before and after services to prepare their hearts, pray, or spend a few moments in silence. When conversations become loud, it can make it difficult for others to experience the peace and reverence they are seeking. We kindly ask that we all be mindful of our volume while inside the sanctuary. If you would like to visit with friends and family, the fellowship hall, church lobby, or other gathering areas provide a wonderful space for conversation without disturbing those who are praying or meditating. Thank you for helping preserve the sacred atmosphere of our sanctuary. Your thoughtfulness and consideration for others are greatly appreciated. Together, we can ensure that everyone who enters the sanctuary finds it to be a place of peace, worship, and the presence of God.
