Please Note: The sanctuary is a special place set aside for worship, prayer and quiet reflection. Many people come before and after services to prepare their hearts, pray, or spend a few moments in silence. When conversations become loud, it can make it difficult for others to experience the peace and reverence they are seeking. We kindly ask that we all be mindful of our volume while inside the sanctuary. If you would like to visit with friends and family, the fellowship hall, church lobby, or other gathering areas provide a wonderful space for conversation without disturbing those who are praying or meditating. Thank you for helping preserve the sacred atmosphere of our sanctuary. Your thoughtfulness and consideration for others are greatly appreciated. Together, we can ensure that everyone who enters the sanctuary finds it to be a place of peace, worship, and the presence of God.
