TODAY'S SCRIPTURE READING

Leviticus 10:1-7

KING JAMES VERSION

1 And Nadab and Abihu, the sons of Aaron, took either of them his censer, and put fire therein, and put incense thereon, and offered strange fire before the Lord, which He commanded them not.
2 And there went out fire from the Lord, and devoured them, and they died before the Lord.
3 Then Moses said unto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will be sanctified in them that come nigh Me, and before all the people I will be glorified. And Aaron held his peace.
4 And Moses called Mishael and Elzaphan, the sons of Uzziel the uncle of Aaron, and said unto them, Come near, carry your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.
5 So they went near, and carried them in their coats out of the camp; as Moses had said.
6 And Moses said unto Aaron, and unto Eleazar and unto Ithamar, his sons, Uncover not your heads, neither rend your clothes; lest ye die, and lest wrath come upon all the people: but let your brethren, the whole house of Israel, bewail the burning which the Lord hath kindled.
7 And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oil of the Lord is upon you. And they did according to the word of Moses.

SERMON NOTES

It is a sobering truth that life can change in a single vertical minute. When a routine flight from Austin turns into a catastrophic plunge, we are starkly reminded of how fragile our footing truly is—even miles above the ground. To imagine the final moments in that cockpit—the young co-pilot watching the earth rush up with terrifying clarity, alongside families and innocent little children whose futures were cut short—leaves a heavy, aching silence in the chest. Tragedies like this leave us crying out the oldest human question: Why? Why do the innocent suffer? Why do innocent lives end so abruptly in the blink of an eye? Faith doesn't always provide a neat, comforting answer to the "why," but it does meet us in the rubble. It reminds us that we live in a broken world where time and chance happen to all, yet it anchors our hope in a God who gathers our tears. In the shadow of such senseless loss, we are forced to realize how precious every ordinary day is, reminding us to hold our loved ones close and lean hard on His mercy when the worst happens.
