The scripture for today:Luke 12:28

God is the creator of all things and we understand that every living thing that He created is sustained by His power. The contrast between grass that grows from the ground and the masterpiece of God's creation, mankind, is made in our text today. God created both but for completely different purposes and functions. Grass and man cannot be reasonably compared in the hierarchy of living things. Only man is created in His image. God's love for us is much greater than we can imagine. We fret over things when we should readily understand that God is the source of our provision. Since He provides for everything that He created, even the grass, it only stands to reason that He will provide for the people who are His, those who are created in His image and put their trust in Him. God attends to the smallest details of life and nothing escapes His attention. He sees, He cares and He responds to our needs as we put our trust in Him. God does not force Himself upon us but He is always there for us, willing to provide what we need most. Our faith in His care for us elevates us above the stresses of this life. Stress and faith do not co-exist, just as love and fear cannot co-exist. One dispels the other. The days are upon us when we must trust God and His Word in order to overcome the increased pressures of this world's system. The world has rapidly degenerated into a godless, faithless, chaotic and confused place to be. Only those who learn to put their complete trust in Christ, relying upon Him and Him alone, will survive in these last days. The world is growing darker and darker but the light of God's presence in His people will shine brighter and brighter. We have nothing to fear; we have everything to rejoice about. Jesus is coming soon! God has placed us here for such a time as this. Trust in God, do not fear, be steadfast in faith and be filled with His Holy Spirit. We must allow Him to lead us into a life of obedience to His Word and the inheritance of His promises. Heart surrender and sincere obedience to the Word of God is the path to victory. God will provide, He will deliver, He will manifest His glory in His redeemed ones!

God bless you as you continue in His service.
