2026 Tithe and Offering Readings

April – June

Each Sabbath, we have the privilege of worshiping God through tithes and offerings. This booklet provides weekly readings designed to help every congregation create a clear, intentional, and meaningful moment of worship centered on biblical stewardship. The purpose of these readings is simple: to lead our members into a deeper understanding of why we return tithe, why we give offerings, and how our generosity advances the mission of the church. We encourage every church to:

Take dedicated time each Sabbath to highlight the importance of tithing and offering.

Use the provided reading for that week during the worship service before collecting the offering.

Teach and uplift God's call to faithful stewardship, helping members grow in trust, gratitude, and partnership in mission.

Share how offerings are used — both within the local church and across the Washington Conference — to support ministries that change lives.

As we begin the second quarter of 2026, may these readings help us cultivate a spirit of worship, generosity, and joyful obedience. Thank you for leading your congregation in honoring God through faithful stewardship!

Tithing is one of the clearest ways we acknowledge God as the true Owner of all we have. Scripture reminds us, “The earth is the Lord’s, and all its fullness” (Psalm 24:1). When we return tithe, we are not giving something that belongs to us—we are returning what already belongs to Him. This act of faith places God first and aligns our hearts with His purposes. As one writer observed, “Tithing is not a matter of money... it is a matter of faith.”

Through your tithe, you participate in the broader mission of the Washington Conference. Your faithfulness supports pastors, evangelistic outreach, discipleship, and leadership development across Western Washington. Tithe strengthens churches, equips ministry leaders, and helps bring the gospel to communities throughout our region.

In addition to tithe, Scripture calls us to give offerings faithfully and systematically. Offerings to the local church budget sustain the weekly ministry of this congregation—supporting worship services, children’s and youth programs, Bible study groups, community outreach, and the care of our church facilities. These gifts make it possible for our church to remain active, welcoming, and engaged in mission.

Today’s loose offering also supports our Local Church Budget, strengthening the ministries that serve both our members and our community.

Thank you for returning tithe and giving generously. You may give today through the Adventist Giving app or with the tithe envelopes provided by the church.

Scripture says, “Honor the Lord with your possessions, and with the firstfruits of all your increase” (Proverbs 3:9). When we return tithe, we acknowledge that everything we have comes from Him and that we depend on His blessing. Tithing is not simply a financial practice—it is an act of worship that draws our hearts closer to God and deepens our daily walk with Him.

Tithing is one of the ways God teaches us to put Him first. In Scripture, we are reminded, “Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added to you” (Matthew 6:33). Returning tithe is a practical expression of that priority. It is not about what we give up, but about who we trust. When we place God first in our finances, we declare that He is faithful to provide for all our needs.

Tithing reminds us that God calls us to live with compassion as well as faithfulness. ### Local Church Budget

Tithing is an act of faith that teaches us to trust God beyond what we can see. In Scripture, we read of Elijah and the widow of Zarephath, who, in a time of great need, chose to give first. Though her resources were nearly gone, she trusted God's promise—and He provided for her day by day (1 Kings 17). Tithing invites us into that same experience, where faith comes before provision and trust grows through obedience.

Through your tithe, you support the mission of the Washington Conference. Your faithfulness helps provide for pastors, evangelism, discipleship, and leadership development across Western Washington. ### Washington Youth: Sunset Lake

Tithing reminds us that God uses what we place in His hands to shape lives for eternity. In Scripture, we see this in the offering of a young boy who gave his lunch to Jesus. What seemed small became more than enough when surrendered to Him (John 6). In the same way, when we return tithe, we trust that God will multiply its impact beyond what we can see, using it to bless others and advance His work in powerful and meaningful ways in every place.

Tithing calls us to place God at the center of our lives, trusting Him with both what we have and what we hope for. Scripture reminds us, “It is He who gives you power to get wealth” (Deuteronomy 8:18). When we return tithe, we recognize that our abilities, opportunities, and resources all come from God. This simple act of faith helps guard our hearts from self-reliance and keeps us rooted in dependence on Him.

Local Church Budget

Tithing is more than a financial practice—it is a spiritual discipline that shapes our character. Scripture reminds us, “Where your treasure is, there your heart will be also” (Matthew 6:21). When we return tithe, we are choosing to place our hearts in God’s hands. Ellen White writes, “The system of tithes and offerings was intended to impress the minds of men with a great truth—that God is the source of every blessing to His creatures” (Counsels on Stewardship, p. 65). Tithing keeps that truth before us and draws us closer to Him.

Women's Ministries

Tithing reminds us that God calls each of us to be faithful stewards of the blessings He has given. In Scripture, we see women like Mary who poured out what she had in an act of devotion, demonstrating that true giving flows from a heart surrendered to God (John 12). When we return tithe, we are not simply following a principle—we are responding to God's love with trust, gratitude, and wholehearted commitment.

Local Church Budget

Tithing invites us to live with a spirit of surrender, trusting that God will provide for every need. In Scripture, we see this principle in the life of the early church, where believers gave freely, recognizing that everything they had belonged to God (Acts 4). Their generosity flowed from hearts transformed by grace. In the same way, when we return tithe, we acknowledge God's ownership and place our confidence in His faithful care rather than in our own resources.

Washington Youth: Education

Tithing reminds us that God often uses what we return to Him to shape the next generation. In Scripture, we are instructed to “train up a child in the way he should go” (Proverbs 22:6). Faithful stewardship helps make that calling possible. When we return tithe, we are investing not only in today’s mission but also in the future of the church, supporting environments where young people can grow in faith, knowledge, and purpose.
